On behalf of the TW-LP Consortium*

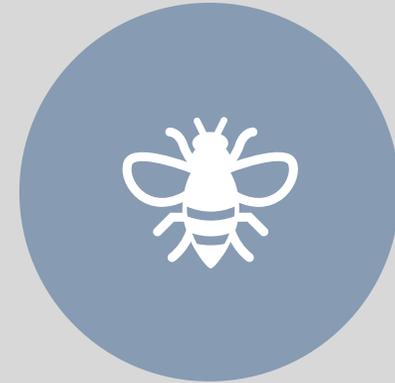

The Transformative Water-Learning Partnership (TW-LP) Consortium

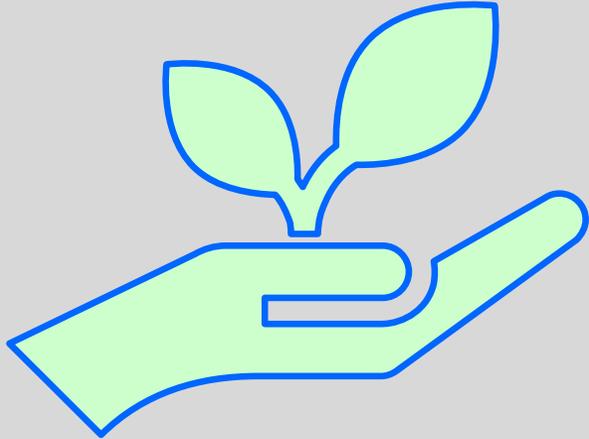

Water Knowledge

Sustainability Knowledge

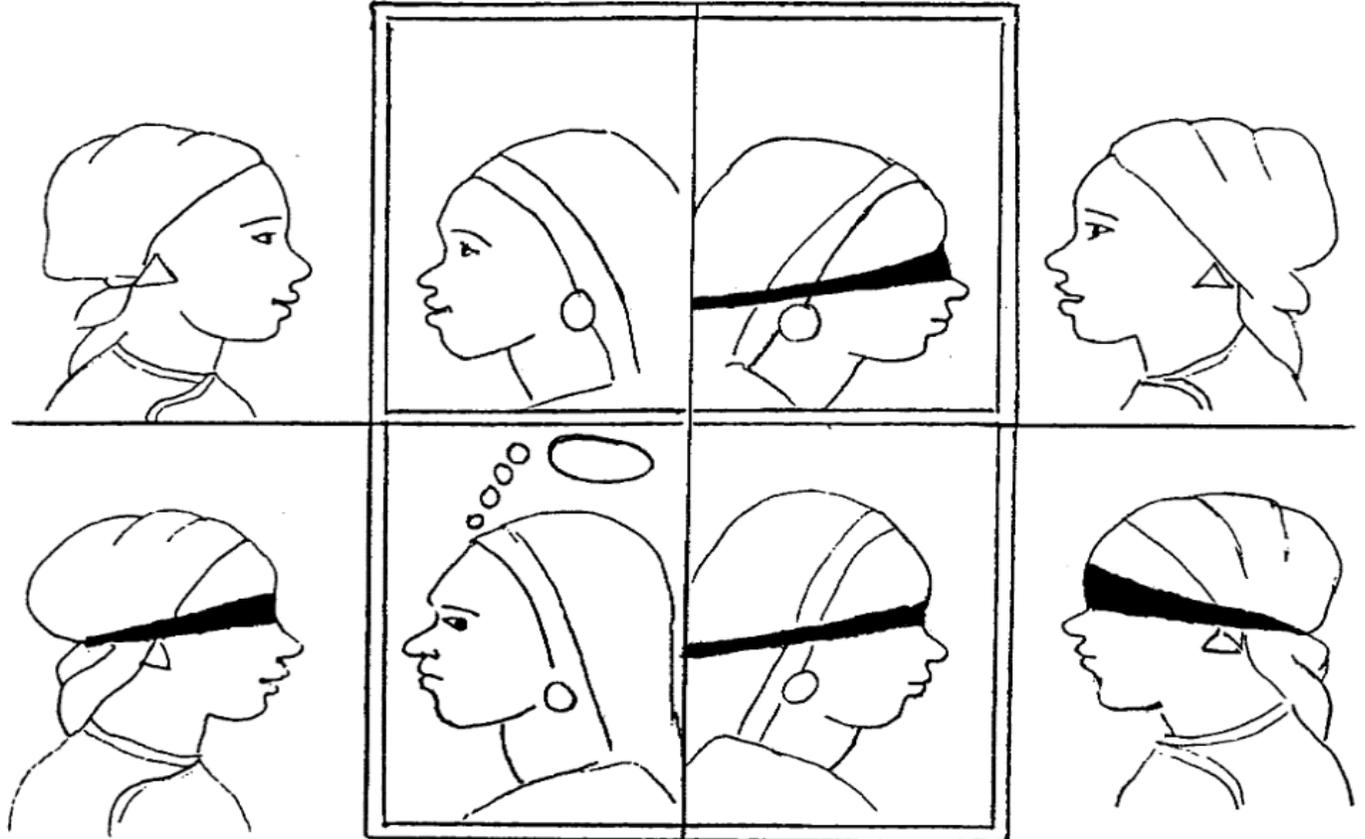

Cross-pollination Knowledge

Knowledge Co-creation

OPEN - Both parties know each other at least superficially and the relationship seems friendly.

BLIND - The outsider (extension agent) can see problems and their solutions clearly but the insider (villager) does not see them at all.

HIDDEN - The insider (villager) has certain feelings, beliefs, values, fears, etc. which only insiders are aware of. They are hidden from outsider's view.

UNKNOWN - Neither party knows the other well. They may however get to know each other better in the future in the course of working together over a period of time.

We don't receive Wisdom; we must discover it for ourselves after a journey that no one can take for us or spare us. (Marcel Proust)

SDGs are important but there are more urgent work to be done before implementing them. Perhaps ...we can do simultaneously!

ကျွဲကူးရေပါဆိုတဲ့ မြန်မာစကားပုံအတိုင်း လုပ်ကြည့်ကြတာပေါ့။ Innovation!

“The SDG Summit in September must be a moment of unity to provide a renewed impetus and accelerated actions for reaching the SDGs.”

ANTÓNIO GUTERRES, United Nations Secretary-General

In this seminar: Leading Water Institutions

- Format: 4 parts included in this seminar over 2 hours (120 minutes)
- Part 1 (15 min.): Important remarks and thoughts by 3 co-leads of the TW-LP consortium
- Part 2 (15 min.): Knowledge sharing about the Leading Water Institutions (70+)
- Part 3 (45 Min.): Panel discussion with Leading Water Professionals from two aspects; Individual Leadership and Organizational Leadership. You will hear more from the Panelists and the Moderator. All of them have more than 40 years of experience in the water sector and still very active.
- Part 4 (45 Min.): Interactive Discussion with the Audience consisted of Gen. X, Y, Z, and Boomers. This is the best part of all! Because we will co-create the collective knowledge on the topic of “Leading Water Institutions” and see how each individual feel and imagine for the next step toward our common future!

Please sit back and relax to co-create collective knowledge for us by us!
